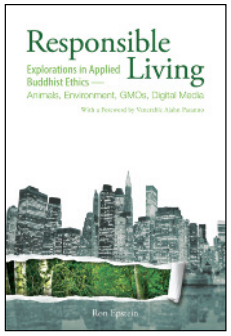
Responsible Living

Explorations in Applied Buddhist Ethics – Animals, Environment, GMOs, Digital Media

By Ron Epstein, PhD



Does genetic engineering have the potential to be as dangerous as a nuclear holocaust? Will playing games online lead to brain shrinkage? These and other environmental and moral dilemmas of the modern world are discussed in this collection of essays which include pollution, animal cruelty, genetically modified foods, and our addictions to digital and social media.

Dr. Epstein, a retired lecturer at San Francisco State University, holds a B.A. from Harvard and a Ph.D. from UC, Berkeley. He co-sponsored legislation which banned the growing of GMOs in northern California.

After the Rain

By Neil Tatar

"The talent that comes together on this album is incredible! This is fantastic music, it is like the masterpiece painting that you have been looking for." - Keith Hannalek, New Age Music Reviews

Neil Tatar has been working (yet again) at the Imaginary Road Studios with Will Ackerman and many other high-talent musicians, such as Charlie Bisharat, Jeff Oster and others. Jonathan Widran, Music Connection writes, "While many influential artists are renowned for their prowess on a single instrument, Neil Tatar stands out with new works that draw from his compositional brilliance on both piano and acoustic guitar on After The Rain."

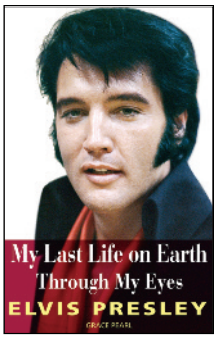
My Last Life on Earth Through My Eyes: Elvis Presley

By Grace Pearl



Discover the amazing, true-life story of Elvis and the compassionate spiritual message he conveys to humanity.

"From this dimension, where Souls who have completed their experience on Earth continue their lives – I want to set the record straight about who I was, as Elvis Presley, and about my last life on that planet."

In this touching and captivating book by Grace Pearl, Elvis Presley first sets the record straight about who he was and the life he led. Then, in a compelling message, he explains that our true reality is a spiritual one and that the awakening of consciousness is the key to meet the great challenges humanity faces today.
